End of the Fun

This time, 3rd, 4th, and 5th worked together to make 1 newspaper because this is last (and the best) newspaper for the year. We will miss you all!

Goodbye Newspaper, For Now

By: Brynlee Bingham

Fiction Fandom is coming to an end. This is the very last newspaper but, there is a change this time 3rd, 4th and 5th are all writing together. There will be so much more to do! We all had fun writing for you but, Mrs. Nguyen has to go. We hope you enjoyed our newspapers. Have a nice year, we hope you enjoyed the year of 2020-2021!

Home on the Moon

Words by Martin Nowak:

Would you like to live on the moon? Future City Competition has a way to make this happen in a matter of months! Seemingly, only highly trained scientists could create the plan for this life-changing project, yet a team of eighth-grade students designed this moon city, which they named SIDRA-XIV. Maybe someday this moon colony will find it's way to the moon within five to six years! The team that made this was from Houston Texas. That is right by Del Rio! Isn't that cool?

Earth Day Everyday

DIY Earth Day Slime

Words by Martin Nowak:

Ingredients:

- 1/2 cup craft glue
- 1/2 teaspoon borax
- 1 1/2 cups hot water in separate containers
- 1 bottle of fine glitter
- Large mixing bowl
- blue and green food coloring

Directions

1. In your large mixing bowl, combine a 1/2 cup glue with 1/2 cup of hot water and mix well.
2. Add the blue food coloring
3. Mix a 1/2 of a teaspoon of borax into the last 1 cup of hot water and stir to let the borax dissolve

4. Now pour the borax water into your glue mixture and stir (the added ingredients should start coming together, forming slime).

5. Pour out the leftover water, then remove the slime from the bowl and knead it in your hands for a couple of minutes.

6. Repeat steps 1-5 with green food coloring

7. Lightly mix the two and sprinkle with glitter.

8. ENJOY YOUR NEW SLIME!!! Now we are going to tell you what earth day is all about in the next story. Later 'yall!

Earth Day is the Best Day!

Words by Mariah Sands

Earth Day is the day we recycle, and take care of the Earth. If you littered on earth day it can possibly mean you don't care about Earth... Please don't litter on this important day and if your dad or mom like hunting animals tell them not to do it on Earth Day! One student stated "I sang a very important song to remind everyone to take care of the earth!" The student who said this is no other than Mariah Sands! The host of the Critter Club! She said "If you want to see me singing this song you can just ask me to sing it!" Back to earth day! Earth Day was on Thursday April 22. Remember, if you care about earth, don't litter, and save animals in need, even when it is not Earth Day!

3rd Grade Ecosystem Project

Words by Martin Nowak:

At RBB Stem Magnet School, Mrs. Nguyen's 3rd grade students presented different ecosystems on tri-fold and through amazingly realistic models to show either a food chain. If they wanted to go above and beyond, then a food web of an ecosystem. One example is the Rain forest. The first paragraph probably went like this: Hello! Have you ever been to the rainforest? If not I can tell you all about it. The Rain forest is a lush green ecosystem located in between the Tropic of Cancer and the Tropic of Capricorn. It is home to some of the most wonderful animals to ever exist. The presentation was on Thursday, April 1, 2021. It was a huge blast of fun for everyone. This presentation did turn out to be a success. Happy April RBB Falcons!

Petting Event

Words By: Mariah Sands:

Did you know that the base had a petting event on the Friday of spring break? That was a long time ago! A petting event is where people get some animals for kids to pet. The student that founded the Critter Club was, passing out her flyers for the club! if you want to learn more information about this club, read last weeks 3rd grade Fiction Fandom newspaper. The petting event was hosted by a person that is friends with the assistant manager of the Lozano Fitness Center, the host brought their dogs, guinea pigs, and bunnies. This petting event was around 3:00 PM at the fitness center entryway. Hopefully you didn't miss out on this fun event!

Pre-K Projects

Pre-K has done many awesome things in 2021, find out about some here!

Glorious Garden

Our garden is amazing!

Words By: Mariah Sands and Martin Nowak

Did you know that Pre-K did a garden? If you didn't already notice it takes place next to the science lab and Mrs. Reed's classroom. The Pre-K children really worked hard on their garden. Sometime in April, Mrs. Avalos and her Pre-K class started the garden sometime in April, hoping to start it by Earth Day. The tools and pots came from last year donations.

The painted tires used to hold the plants were also from donations, but were previously in the school campus; they just moved them from the front entryway to the garden area.

Let's hope that this garden will go wonderfully!

Shining Shadows

Words By: Claire Wetterhall

Did you know that Pre-K did a shadow project? What they did was they got a long piece of white paper, different objects, and a sunny day. First they watched a movie about it to gain in some facts. Then, they put out the white paper and hovered the objects over it, so it showed the objects shadows.

Then, they traced the shadows of the objects. Isn't that cool? This really was a fun, and cool way to learn. Great job Pre-k! Now me and my shadow are signing out.

Keiko's Grand Arrival

Goodbye, Mrs. Nguyen! 😞

Mrs. Nguyen is leaving this week due to her baby's grand arrival. Her baby's name will be Keiko. ❤️ This is our last newspaper. We hope to make it our best. When her baby is delivered she will not come back because it will almost be the end of the school year. Her baby's name means "blessing". She will now have 3 girls. Cool, right? -Nayeli Martinez

The Longest Nails in the World

Words by Quinn Bingham

Do you ever wonder what it would be like if you didn't clip your nails for 30 years? Well, Ayanna Williams did that to find out exactly that. After the thirty years passed, the nails on her right hand grew to 133.3 inches (338.5 cm) over that time. Meanwhile, her left nails reached 155.5 inches (395.05 cm). That is very long nails for someone to have, and because she got into the Guinness Book of World Records! The cool thing is when she wanted to polish her nails it took three bottles of nail polish to do that! Well our time has come to an end see you next time!

Arrival of the Pets

Words By: Claire Wetterhall and Mariah Sands:

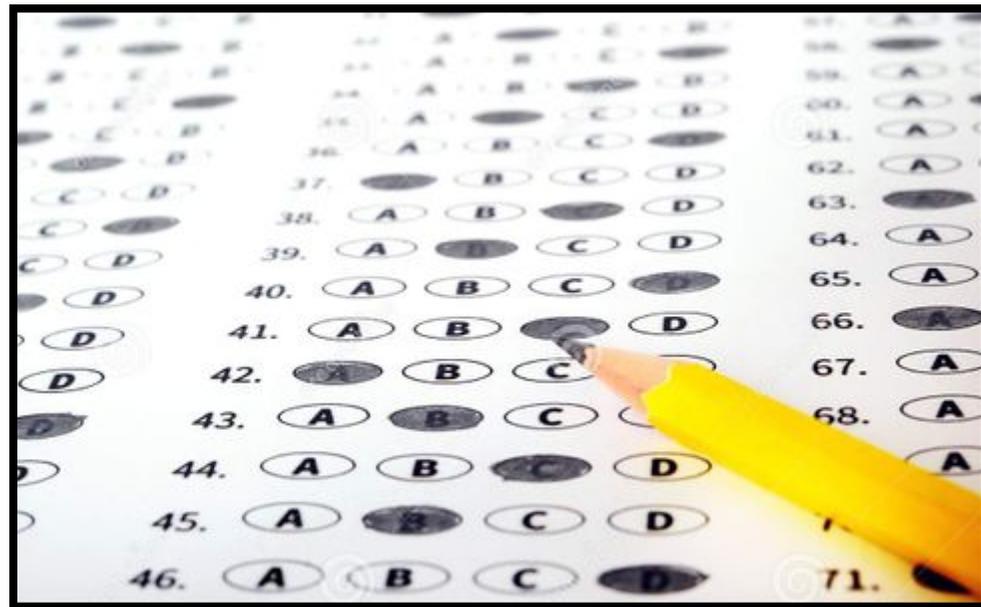

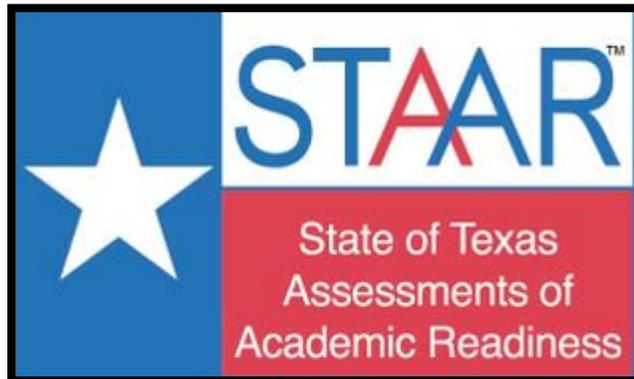

Did you know that third grade has 3 class pets? Well you're about to meet them. First up... Blastoise the turtle! Blastiose is also a species called "Red Eared Slider." Last year, the previous 3rd grade students made a maze for Blastoise, he was basically the "Godzilla of the Maze." Then we have... Murphy and Kikashi the hamsters! Murphy is an energetic hamster always ready for the job of creative mazes! Kakashi is well... a follower. Murphy and Kakashi are always up to something whether you know it or not. 3rd grade definitely love their pets.

The Upcoming STAAR Tests

What to Expect When the STAAR Comes

Words By: Sophia Nguyen

3rd, 4th, and 5th grade better be prepared! The STAAR tests are coming in about 7-8 days. Many classes are reviewing certain topics such as area, perimeter, angles, certain problems. Though, once somebody learns one method, they quickly think that they would remember it later. Perhaps, after a few weeks (or months for the people with longer lasting memory) they would forget what they had learned. So, before STAAR, teachers quickly review all the subjects they had learned in the past few months. Multiplication or division methods and more. Many students are reviewing more math or reading to make sure their skills are on point. Even though math is the longest subject of each day of school, many people would expect that we would quickly get used to certain

Ten Test Taking Tips to Help you Through the STAAR

- Eat a big and delicious Breakfast
- Do a outdoor activity the night before
- Don't Rush though the test
- Show all of your work
- Believe in yourself
- If your stuck on a question skip it and go back to it at the end
- Don't stress yourself out
- Make sure you stay organized
- Have sharpened pencils and bright highlighters
- Use your time wisely on the STAAR

Wonders of the World

3rd Grade Garden

Words by Mariah Sands:

Did you know that third grade made a garden? Yep, a beautiful garden! Most of the plants in the garden are ingredients for making delicious meals! One of the plants already sprouted! If you want to see the plant that sprouted, then at recess go to where there are two red-ish brown boxes, then look in the metal container, and then look in the dirt then you will see little sprouts! There are even more sprouts in the mini pots. Make sure to check them out!

Godzilla v. King Kong

Words by Martin Nowak:

For many years, King Kong fans, sitting right alongside with Godzilla fans, have been waiting and wondering if the two monsters will unite and save the world. Now, in April of 2021, this dream has become an awe-inspiring reality. In the brand new movie, Godzilla v. Kong. Toho Studios in Japan have merged up into the glory with the creation of 'Godzilla v. Kong: a Warner's Bros Picture.'

A New State?

Words By: Claire Wetterhall:

Did you know that there might be 51st state? Washington D.C is the capital of the U.S.A, and they are thinking of making Washington D.C a state. There is already a state named Washington. Washington D.C has the white house in it, and Washington D.C is located in the middle of Virginia and Maryland.

Bake Sale

Words By: Claire Wetterhall

Did you know that there is a bake sale happening? Well it's true! Come one come all on May 15th at 3:00-4:30pm, and let their food tickle your taste buds. This will be happening at the Frazier park (in the nine thousands side of base). The people having the bake sale are no other than Owen and Claire Wetterhall. They hope they'll see you soon.

Greek Mythology Gods and Goddesses

The Three Brothers

Your Journalist : Antonio Furlan-Backlund

*Hades, The king of
The Underworld and
the God of Wealth*

Hades is thought to be plotting against the gods, but that is the complete opposite of what he does. In fact, he actually helps the gods and does favors for them. For example, Apollo wanted to punish a demigod/giant for assaulting his mother, the Titan Leto, including in afterlife, so Hades (gross out alert!) gave him a regenerating liver. Then Hades cut the liver open and let a vulture feast on it. But even he needed to be happy, so he married Persephone and let his "Helm of Darkness" to rest.

Poseidon was the middle child, always being compared to his siblings. But like Zeus, he wasn't satisfied, so he married Amphitrite and had three immortal children. But he didn't stop there; he holds the record for most demigod children. But he was part of the rebellion, so he was stripped of his immortal powers, and he, with Apollo, were sent by Zeus to single-handedly make the walls of Troy.

Poseidon, The God of Seas

*Zeus the lord of the skies,
and king of the gods*

Zeus is portrayed as a superman, with zero faults. Some of that is true, and some is not. Though he is the king of the gods, he was actually the youngest of his brothers (Poseidon and Hades) but either way, he inherited the sky from his grandfather Ouranos (the primordial deity of the sky). One of his faults was Hera; he could not keep his own vows to not cheat on Hera. Also, he, at first, was so bad at ruling a rebellion started. But he also was teaching mortals how to be polite, for example, he would go up to your house disguised as a traveler and ask for food, water, and shelter and see how you would react (if you would slam the door in his face, he would be back with his lightning bolts).

Japanese Mythology

Mizuchi

Mizuchi or Kyuryu, which translates to "Hornless Dragon" or "Water spirit" can take form of two things. Unlike Raiju, which can take form of over ten animals, Mizuchi can only appear as a snake or white dragon with blue fur running down it's back. This is one of the only known Japanese dragons to have four legs. This creature is commonly assorted with Ryu, The first Japanese dragon.

Ryu

Ryu was said to be a multi-colored dragon with fiery-feathered hair covering the area near his head. In many artworks, Ryu is mainly red, and has Blue fur on his back and certain areas around his head, But according to the legend, that appears to be proven false.

The Tale of Tawara Toda

The myth of Ryu, much like many others, is very odd, and can come across strange or random to certain people. I would like to give a quick heads up before you read the following. The first legend involving Ryu, this is about how the jellyfish lost it's bones. According to the legend, Ryu needed to eat a monkey ( in some versions, to cure an incurable burn ) and sent a jellyfish to go get a monkey for him. The monkey managed to get away from the jellyfish by telling it ( as weird as this may seem ) his liver in a jar, and had offered to go get it. When the jellyfish had came back and told Ryu what had happened, Ryu had gotten so upset, that he had beat the jellyfish until all of it's bones were crushed.

Raiju

Raiju was said to be a white or blue wolf with lightning for fur and claws that would sear through anything it would touch. When this creature was disturbed or infuriated, it would cause dangerous storms such as hurricanes, tornadoes, or a thunder storm. It's howls would cause gales strong enough to uproot a tree or even a small house. The legend said that when thunder echoes through earth, It would just be Raiju's roars. It usually has the form of a wolf, but in other legends, it can appear to be a Tanuki ( raccoon dog ) fox, weasel, tiger, cat, bear, porcupine, tapir, elephant, rat, bat, squirrel, boar, rhinoceros, or sea creature. ( either shark, dolphin, or whale .) Superstitious people tend to sleep on their stomachs during bad weather to supposedly fend off Raiju's storms. It was said that is someone got struck by Raiju's fierce lightning, they would never get harmed by any type of storm.

Japanese Mythology

Words by Sophia Nguyen.

A Kirin ( pronunciation: Ky- er-in )
Is much like a unicorn when compared to other mythological studies. As shown in the left photo below, They are shown with antlers, Or sometimes even one sharp horn. They are described to have scales on their arms, tail, or legs. The mane is shown to be made of heavy mist or clouds.

Most artworks show the Kirin with a cyan or blue mane much like a lions.

Kirins are extremely powerful. According to Japanese Mythology multiple figures through history have tried to steal it's horn. If a person got the horn/antler it was said to grant luck for generations.

Azure dragons are shown to have teal or blue scales running down their body. They have green feather-like scales on their spine, head, and tail. They are known for having long and piercing teeth. According to legends, the Azure dragon is the guardian of the city of Kyoto on the east. It is said to control all forms of water when near it. Even though it has this power, it is known for having earth as it's element.

The Myanmar Protest

Words by Martin Nowak:

Problems in Myanmar on November 8, 2020, at the election of Aung San Suu Kyi, the former ruler of Myanmar since 2016. Aung San won the election, and all went well, until the Myanmar Military thought that the election was not fair, that Aung San had cheated. On the first of February, the Army took over the country and arrested Aung San and her political party. They took her to jail and removed her place as ruler. The military controlled Myanmar from 1962 to 2011. Suu Kyi had worked for many years to bring peace to the nation. Now the military has taken power once again. And the military has made army General Min Aung Hlaing the new leader of the country for at least one year.
